SUBJ: CABINET RESHUFFLED; OPPOSITION "REBEL" LEADERS JOIN GOVERNMENT

1.(U) Summary: President Bingu wa Mutharika has reshuffled his Cabinet, bringing aboard three prominent opposition leaders and sacking three ministers. The changes have affected almost every ministry, as a number of ministers have been moved, three new positions created, and eight new ministers brought on board. The embattled Vice President, who is still under house arrest for treason charges, has been dropped from Cabinet. End summary.

¶2. (SBU) Two leaders in the opposition Malawi Congress Party (MCP), Shadow Minister of Finance Ted Kalebe and Shadow Minister of Health Bitony Kutsaira, have joined government as deputy ministers in the ministries of Finance and Agriculture. United Democratic Front (UDF) Treasurer General Bob Khamisa has also joined government as Minister of Home Affairs.

¶3. (U) Minister of Health Hetherwick Ntaba, a long-time politician who has served as Minister in all three of Malawi's presidential administrations, headlines the list of those let go. Minister of Trade and Private Sector Development Martin Kansichi and Deputy Minister of Mines, Natural Resources and Environment Jimmy Banda were also fired.

¶4. (U) The Minister of Foreign Affairs Davies Katsonga has been moved to Minister of Defense, a position that the President had previously held. Taking his place is former Minister of Gender, Joyce Banda. The Deputy Minister of Foreign Affairs, Marjorie Ngaunje, has been promoted to Health Minister, and the new Deputy Minister is Henry Mumba, former Deputy Minister of Agriculture.

¶5. (U) The President has created new positions of Minister of State in the Office of the President, Deputy Minister of Finance, and Deputy Minister of Local Government. The Ministry of Industry, Science and Technology has also been combined with the Ministry of Trade and Private Sector Development to create the Ministry of Industry, Trade and Private Sector Development. The total number of cabinet positions has increased to thirty-seven, including the president.

¶6. (SBU) Comment: Convincing Kalebe and Kutsaira to join cabinet has to be considered a political coup for the President. While both have been vocal in their disagreements with MCP leader John Tembo, they were both valued front-benchers in the opposition. They also have been considered leaders of the "young" MCP members pushing for a leadership change within the party. The real questions will be whether or not the two can bring along any other MCP members to the government side, which might push Mutharika's party toward a majority in parliament.

17. (SBU) For their part, neither Ntaba nor Kansichi are Members of Parliament, and were likely replaced in an effort to add parliamentary support to government ahead of the opening of next Tuesday's budget session. Outside of these changes, however, the President's general shuffling of portfolios seems to be more about shaking things up throughout the cabinet, rather than specifically demoting or promoting individuals. End Comment.
